Insurer security

While we monitor the financial strength of the insurers with whom we place business, it should be noted that the claims-paying ability of even the strongest insurers could be affected by adverse business conditions. We cannot, therefore, guarantee the solvency of any insurer or underwriter. A liability for the premium, whether in full or pro rata, may arise under policies where a participating insurer becomes insolvent.

Claims

If you are involved in an accident or have occasion to claim on your policy for any other reason, you must notify us immediately and we will promptly advise you and, if appropriate, issue you with a claim form and pass details to your insurer. You should not admit liability or agree to any course of action, other than emergency measures to minimise your loss, until you have agreement from your insurer. You must continue to make your monthly payments for your insurance, if applicable. We reserve the right to withhold payment in respect of claims, if payment of any premiums to us is in default.

Automatic renewals

For your protection, we reserve the right to automatically renew your policy up to five working days prior to the renewal date and take payment by the same payment method as this year. If we exercise this right we will write to you prior to the renewal date, informing you how much the premium will be and giving you time to let us know if you wish to opt out of the automatic renewal process which you can elect to do at any time in writing, by phone or by email. We also reserve the right to automatically renew any additional policies that you take out with this policy, such as breakdown assistance cover.

Our charges

In addition to premiums and administration fees charged by insurers and the finance provider, we normally make the following non-refundable charges to cover the administration of your insurances:

Policy set up fee any non-disclosed or misrepresented information:	£35
Changes to a policy up to:	£35
Collection of debts:	£35
Processing un-cleared cheques:	£30
Assessing an agreed value from:	£15
Replacement Smartbox and data:	£160
Issue of Green cards from:	£30
Additional surcharge for cancelling or null and voiding policies prior to the 31 st day of cover	£45
Policy cancelled for any reason: (This is in addition to set up fee, adjustment fees and insurers charges for time on cover)	£40

For commission-based policies, the insurer charges a gross premium and pays us a proportionate commission out of that. In the event of any policy amendments that result in a return premium, we retain our commission. Alternatively, for fee-based policies the insurer quotes a lower net premium and we add a proportionate brokerage fee to it. This brokerage fee is non-refundable. The brokerage fee or commission covers the work we do in administering your policy. Policy amendments may result in an additional premium and fee being charged by your insurer, as well as our mid-term adjustment fee. Where applicable, all refunds will be processed to the same debit/credit card that was used to make a payment on the policy.

Your insurer may make a charge for any amendment made to your policy in addition to any increase in premium and our midterm adjustment fee.

Return premiums (usually arising if an insurance risk is reduced or the policy is cancelled), will be refunded to you net of commission or proportionate fee. Where applicable, all refunds will be processed to the last card used under your account up to the amount debited, any balance thereafter will be issued to you using any previous card.

You should not take out a new policy if you have an existing debt with us, Hadleigh Holdings Ltd or their subsidiaries. If your new policy is cancelled as a result, we reserve the right to offset the cancellation refund against the equivalent value of the debt.

How monies paid to us are handled

We are the Agent of Insurers for the purpose of collection of premiums and refunds of premiums. This means that premiums are treated as being received by the insurer when received in our bank account, and that any premium refund is treated as received by you when it is actually paid over to you. We normally accept payment by any of the major debit/credit cards or a guaranteed cheque.

Your debit/credit card information will be replaced by a secure token so we can use the same card to take payments for automatic renewals and to pay or refund other premiums that may become due upon changes to the policy. To opt out, please call us, or contact us by post or email.

If you take a new policy out with ourselves and make a payment towards this new policy but have a previous policy with ourselves that has an outstanding balance, we reserve the right to transfer any money paid on the new policy to cover the debt outstanding on your previous policy.

Minimum refund £7.50 anything under this will be retained.

Cancelling your insurance

You have the right to cancel your policy at any time. If you wish to cancel your policy, please call us first to discuss this. It may be necessary for you to send us your cancellation request in writing before we can cancel your policy.

Most insurers will retain the full annual premium if a policy is cancelled and a claim has been reported. All supplementary covers will be cancelled if your main policy is cancelled.

Any refund will be offset against any outstanding Direct Debit payments. Where the amount that you owe exceeds the amount that you have paid, you will be required to make payment for the outstanding amount straight away. Failure to do so may result in us taking steps to recover the debt. Do not cancel your Direct Debit payments.

Cancelling within the 14-day cooling off period

The insurer of your main policy will make a reasonable charge for the time you have been on cover if your policy is cancelled during a period of 14 days either from the day of purchase of the contract, or the day on which you receive your policy documentation; whichever is later. For supplementary covers that are cancelled during this period, the full premium will be returned by the insurer providing no claim has been made. Commercial customers may not be eligible to receive a 14-day cooling off period; your policy book will state whether this is cooling off period is applicable to your policy. Short-term policies lasting less than one month are not entitled to a cooling off period.

Any policy cancelled prior to its inception the policy set up fee would be retained.

Cancelling after the 14-day cooling off period

Upon cancellation, insurance companies apply cancellation charges as set out in the policy booklet provided alongside your main policy. Some policies do not return any premium, while other policies apply short term charges that are not proportionate to the annual premium, or pro-rata charges that are proportionate. You should refer to your policy booklet for applicable charges. These charges form part of the contract offered and are applied by the underwriters and not us.

Premiums and financial aspects

The following refers to policyholders over the age of 18. Policyholders under the age of 18 are not eligible to enter into a credit agreement and will require a parent or guardian to do so on their behalf. The parent or guardian will be subject to the data sharing, credit and money laundering checks as stated below.

For the purposes of introducing customers to premium finance facilities we deal exclusively with Premium Credit Limited (PCL). We may receive a commission for introducing you to PCL. If you pay using premium finance, it costs more in total than paying for your policy in one single payment. Finance is subject to status. Your data will be shared with PCL who will assess your creditworthiness using a range of tools to carry out anti-money laundering checks and credit assessments. Your application will include a search of your records at a credit reference agency.

This is a credit agreement between you as the policyholder and PCL, and is separate to the insurance policy. PCL will contact you with full details of your credit agreement. As this is in effect a loan for the initial premium, this agreement should not be cancelled until this has been fully repaid to PCL, even if your insurance policy has been cancelled. If any Direct Debit or other payment due in respect of the credit agreement you enter into with PCL to pay insurance premiums is not met when presented for payment, or if you end the credit agreement with PCL, or if you do not enter into a credit agreement with PCL we will be informed of such events by PCL.

If you do not make other arrangements with us to pay the insurance premiums you acknowledge and agree that we may, at any time after being so informed, instruct on your behalf the relevant insurer to cancel the insurance (or, if this occurs shortly after the start or renewal of the insurance, to notify the insurer that the policy has not been taken up) and to collect any refund of premiums which may be made by the insurer and if any money is owed to PCL under your credit agreement pay it to PCL or if PCL have debited us with the amount outstanding use it to offset our costs. The balance will be debited from the debit/credit card last used by you.

You will be responsible for paying any time on risk charge and putting in place any alternative insurance and/or payment arrangements you need.

If during the course of the policy any additional premiums or refunds of premium are due, then these will be automatically applied to the remaining balance on the PCL account.

It is important you ensure that all information, statements or answers made by you to us online, on the telephone, proposal forms, claim forms and other documents are full and accurate and must be correct. You are reminded that it is an offence under the Road Traffic Act to make any false statements or withhold any relevant information to obtain an insurance certificate. You are advised to keep copies of any correspondence you send to us or direct to your insurer. Please consult us if you are in doubt.

Awareness of policy terms

If you are in any doubt over any of the policy terms or conditions, please contact us promptly.
